Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: AV Akademikerverlag | An analysis of Initial Crypto Offerings & token-based incentive systems on Ethereum & other distributed ledger protocols | In 2017, start-up funding through ICOs (Initial Crypto Offerings) surpassed traditional Venture Capital investments for the first time. Completely new types of firms, better described as ecosystems, are being bootstrapped into existence on the internet without any intermediaries. These crypto-tokens represent a new model for monetizing (open-source) community efforts and actor-oriented organizations. Never in history was access to capital for innovation made available on such a global scale. This book explores the phenomenon of these crowd-funded Blockchain-based decentralized organizations, including their financing and governance. These and other ICO mechanics are critically analyzed through three case studies: Ethereum, TheDAO and Steem. | Format: Paperback | Language/Sprache: english | 227 gr | 220x150x8 mm | 140 pp.
