Excerpt from The Western Messenger, Vol. 2: Devoted to Religion and Literature; From 1836 to 1837 And here we should remember, that it is hardly possible for us to appreciate the importance of this truth. Born in an enlightened age, and in a Christian country, we believe, as a matter of course in one God, the Supreme and the Creator of all things. But it was not so in the time of Moses. The world rested under the baleful darkness of heathenism. The true God was all but unknown. The proclaiming of the truth taught in the first part of Genesis to the moral world in that age of darkness, was like the first appearance of the new-created sun shining into the waste and brooding darkness of chaos. We have become insensible to the importance of that truth by familiarity, as we have to the glory and majesty of the sun in the material world.
