More is made of succulents for out-door gardening than they used to do in the older time; as they give the needed artificial tone to the small garden. Yuccas and Agaves are common in prominent places, and the various species and varieties of Echeverias come into excellent use. Silvery-leaved plants are very common; indeed it would be very hard to make any rich effect with Coleus and other high colors, without these light-baved things to contrast with them. The old Dusty Miller Cineraria maritima, comes in well for this purpose, - the Chamaeponce, Gnaphalium (lanatum,) Centaurea ragusina and C. gymnocarpa, are the leading silver-leaved plants employed. For low variegated plants, the various Teilantheras and Alternantheras, are largely employed, and the Golden Feverfew is almost the only plant we can rely on for a...
