KIRKUS INDIE BOOK REVIEW An engaging mystery with mystical overtones that also offers a wide-ranging discourse on New Age philosophy and entrenched belief systems. Dr. Lance Stavros is a 47-year-old, disaffected doctor ready to commit suicide when he gets a mysterious invitation to become the personal physician of an enigmatic spiritual teacher a man known as Hadden, who holds court inside a mysterious compound, Hawks Landing, on the outskirts of Patra, Greece. Almost immediately falling under the mystics thrall, Lance forgoes his self-destructive tendencies and becomes deeply entwined in the drama at his newfound gurus headquarters. Like the Romans and Pharisees of old, the local Greek authorities dont like the message that Hadden is peddling, so they set out to neutralize him, one way or another. All this intrigue unfolds as Lance undergoes his own spiritual transformation: He listens to Haddens nightly lectures in the Great Room, slowly learns to face the demons of his past and sets his feet on the road to enlightenment. Theres a bloody cost, however, as the net tightens around Hadden and his followers. Tiernan does...
