C, Female Collegiate Institute: During Its Vacation From the End of the Second Week in June to the Second Monday in October; Also, a Prescribed Course, Intended for Those Who, Having Been Associated With the Institute, Are to Rejoin It on the Ensuing October; Together With a Catalogue O Before entering upon the task of pointing out to the Pupil the most profitable manner, in which she can employ the interval, between the termination of her academic duties and their renewal, we would submit, among other remarks, a few observations upon the expediency and advantages of alternating speculative with practical duties. Under the former, we include scholastic and literary exercises generally; under the latter, those things which come home to her business and bosom, as one having positive duties to perform, to herself and to society. As rational beings, seeking a durable good, that is chiefly to be sought, which yields permanent gratification, extending itself to time and eternity. Practical duties sharpen our gust for social and literary enjoyments; and these, in their turn, find their reaction in practical duties. Inattention to this balance of power, is the source of much moral and physical evil. Hi which the mind and health equally suffer. Speculative leisure affords, for a time, a high and often an exquisite degree of pleasure, but, unless relieved by action, in which, indeed, it may be said to embody itself, it palls upon the mind, and injures mental and physical energy. The most durable good results from those employments, which involve our own happiness, just in proportion as they...
