Peck Put Down the Rebellion: Or the Funny Experiences of a Raw Recruit Who got real spunky at each other, some years ago, while playing in their adjoining door-yards, threw tomato cans and dead cats back and forth, called each other names, pulled hair, and snubbed noses until they got into real, actual war, in which such bravery was shown on both sides, as the world had never seen before, and who have decided to be neighbors and friends again, ready to protect and defend each other against all the world; these reminiscences of the ridiculous part taken in the struggle, by a raw recruit, who was too scared to fight and too frightened to run, are most respectfully dedicated, with the earnest hope that no occasion may ever again arise in which it shall seem necessary for one American citizen to seek to shed the gore of another American citizen.
