The Back Page: The Personal Face of History -- Be It the Leaders Now Found in History Books, the Stars Still Found in the Amusement Pages, Not Forgetting Those Who Wrote the Stories

By Val Lauder

Createspace, United States, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 226 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . The Back Page is a terrific read, in the words of John Lane, who began his career in journalism in Chicago before moving on to executive positions at CNN, CBS News, and NBC News. It is an insider's tribute to a great American newspaper, the Chicago Daily News and its colorful and gifted reporters and editors. Many of those editors and reporters had come out of the Twenties era of Chicago journalism so memorably captured in the classic Broadway play The Front Page -- which played its role in giving a title to this book about events not in a press room but a city room two decades later. The time is the last year of World War II, with all its historic events and headlines -- when the author is a copygirl and young staffer -- then moves on to the post-war years, offering personal glimpses of both the historical figures of the time -- President Harry S. Truman, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Admiral William F. Wild Bull Halsey, Vice President Alben W. Barkley, Senator...
