

The Kaspers of Denning Place: And the Case of Weehawken s Haunted House (Paperback)

By Dan Junot

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.On July 6th, 1989, Isaac Ruhdel, an eccentric, recluse, multi-millionaire, was reportedly killed by an aberrant lightning bolt during a Nor easter. He willed all of his liquid assets and properties to a robustly handsome, young chemist, named Chris A. Laude. Well all but one property-Ruhdel s home-a mansion at 55 King Street, which, for the next ten years, went unclaimed, and fell into such a state of disrepair, that the Weehawken City Council moved to have the dwelling (locally known as Weehawken s Haunted House ) demolished. During the demolition, 25 skeletons-all of young men between the ages of 12 and 18-were discovered. According to the coroner, Doctor C. Malcolm Gibbs, some had been there only a few months; others for the better part of a decade. Michael Kasper, the inarguably handsome, local, TV news reporter and anchorman for Channel 12, WPIC, would begin his 6 and 10 p.m. newscasts tonight, December 20th, 1999 -ironically during the height of the festive Christmas season-with these unanswered questions: Was the house at 55 King Street really haunted? How could 25 young...
