Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from North Carolina Literary Hall of Fame: 1997 Induction Ceremony, May 17, 1997 In 1904, James Boyd, a steel and railroad magnate, purchased 1200 acres in Southern Pines and built a home. He christened this new estate Weymouth, after a town he had visited in England. Set amidst a magnificent stand Of virgin long-leaf pines, it served as a country manor where his grandson and namesake, James, Often came as a boy to repair frail health and explore the imposing pine forest and surrounding countryside. Later young James went to Princeton and earned a master s degree at Cambridge. After serving as an ambulance driver during World War I, an experience which left his heath even more fragile, he returned to Weymouth for recovery. In 1919, he and his new wife, the former Katharine Lamont, spent their honeymoon in the house, which by now James co-owned with his brother, Jackson. The following year, he and Katharine moved to Weymouth and began redesigning it. They moved part of the original house across Connecticut Avenue to become part Of Jackson s new home, now known as the Campbell House. TO the remaining structure, they added a second story and two wings, enlarging the Georgian-style house to square feet. James Boyd, now 32 years old, left the management of the family business to his brother while he pursued the dream which had begun when he was editor Of his high school newspaper: to become a writer. Boyd s biographer, David Whisnant, observes that Boyd chose to live in Southern Pines because this site seemed to Offer the best conditions for beginning [a literary career] - a reasonable physical comfort, freedom from distractions, and a mild..
