Excerpt from Tools and Weapons: Illustrated by the Egyptian Collection in University College, London, and 2, 000 Outlines From Other Sources I. IN touching such an immense subject as the history of tools and weapons, it is needful to accept various limitations to the scope of the enquiry, as otherwise it would be unmanageable. In the first place this account refers to Egypt, and only to other countries as illustrating that. The Egyptian material is given as completely as may be, regard ing types and dates, and photographs of the speci mens at University College, of which this is a catalogue; duplicates in other collections are not noticed, but only such specimens as amplify the subject. From other countries comparisons are merely an index of outlines, to Show varieties of types and their geographical range, but without any attempt to give all the minor variations of form or place. The sources and dating of each form have been the main object in view. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
