The grass is soft, its velvet touch is grateful to the hand, And, like the kiss of maiden love, the breeze is sweet and bland; The daisy and the buttercup are nodding courteously, It stirs their blood, with kindest love, to bless and welcome thee: And mark how with thine own thin locks--they now are silvery gray--That blissful breeze is wantoning, and whispering, Be gay! There is no cloud that sails along the ocean of yon sky, But hath its own winged mariners to give it melody: Thou seest their glittering fans outspread, all gleaming like red gold, And hark! with shrill pipe musical, their merry course they hold. God bless them all, these little ones, who, far...
