Reviews

Here is the finest publication we have read right up until now. It is actually written in easy words instead of difficult to understand. It has been written in a remarkably easy way in fact it is only right after I finished reading this book in which basically changed me, modified the way I really believe.

Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Food for Reflection: Being an Historical Comparison Between Mohammedanism and Christianity Every believer in revealed religion knows that there is but one living and true God, the Creator of heaven and earth and of all things visible and invisible. To Him, therefore, as their supreme Lord, all rational beings owe allegiance and worship. This common relation of all men to their God and Maker forms a bond of union between them which no one has a right to disregard. Even if a man does not know God, his duty remains the same; for his very ignorance is culpable, and he ought to know Him, and, by consequence, he ought to know also the common relation just mentioned. But besides this common dependence on the same Creator, which might be called the spiritual or divine bond of union, there is also an earthly or natural tie of brotherhood which all must acknowledge. As every man, by virtue of his creation, has a right to say, God is my Lord, so also, because of his descent from the first human couple, even the meanest and most despised can affirm that Adam was his father and Eve his mother. In this point of view the whole human race forms hut one large family, and all men are brethren. Accordingly, dear reader, though we have never seen or heard of each other before, yet we are not absolute strangers, but fellow-servants of the same Lord in heaven, and children of the same common parents on earth. On account of this double affinity, your weal or woe cannot be a matter of indifference to me, and I trust you will...
