Thomson to the measurement of the capacity of cables. If the poles of a battery are connected through a high resistance  $J$ , +  $J_i$  and a point  $F$  is connected with earth, its potential becomes zero and points on either side separated from it by equal resistances are at equal but  $X F$  Fig. 21. sstances are unequal, opposite potentials. If the re Charge the two condensers by making contact on opposite sides of  $F$  at such points that their charges just neutralize. If  $A$  and  $C$  are the points, (d) Charge the condenser and discharge it through a galvanometer, noting the deflection; charge it again to the original potential and allow it to discharge slowly through a very high resistance. After discharging a definite time  $T$ , note the deflection it will give when connected directly to the galvanometer....
