Please note that the content of this book primarily consists of articles available from Wikipedia or other free sources online. Frank Lloyd Wright, Jr. (March 30, 1890, Oak Park, Illinois - May 31, 1978, Santa Monica, California), commonly known as Lloyd Wright, was an American landscape architect and architect, most active in Los Angeles and Southern California. His name is frequently confused with that of his more famous father, Frank Lloyd Wright. Lloyd Wright s mother was Catherine Lee Kitty Tobin. His father was the famous architect, Frank Lloyd Wright. Lloyd Wright attended the University of Wisconsin (even longer than his father had) before dropping out. His first efforts for an independent career took him to Boston and the landscape architecture firm of the Olmsted Brothers. Specializing in botany and horticulture, he continued to pursue the interrelation of landscape to building throughout his life.
