Bold Title Attitude Who would presume to write such a book and why would you read it Yes! Yes! And I wrote it because several years ago, facing pancreatic cancer, I desperately needed it. The diagnosing doctors basically said, Sorry about your luck. My physician husband knew orthodox medicine had no good answer for me beyond risky surgery while he also had the skepticism of alternative medicine his training imbued. A physician friend told me, If you survive this, you will have to be your own doctor. I was backed in a corner and the clock was ticking. It was up to me--or so I thought. I soon learned I was not alone in my plight. Even after my CT scan reports surprised doctors by changing from having very troublesome changes and spots in remaining pancreas, liver, and lungs to repeatedly reporting no evidence of recurrent or residual disease, I kept the research going because I had prayed to regain my health in order to become an encourager to others being attacked by...
