Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Four Lectures on the Contrasts of Ancient and Modern History: Delivered at the Manchester Athenaeum, Michaelmas 1846 I am to Speak of the contrasts of Ancient and Modern History; and the very expressions need preliminary remark. Some nations may seem to be in nearly the same state in ancient and in modern times; as the roving Arabs and Tartars: perhaps even the inhabitants of China and its neighbouring Archipelago. All such peoples are tacitly excluded from this discussion: roving tribes, because they have no history, or none worth the name; the Chinese nations, because their culture has for ages become stationary, and as we have no record of their earlier times, we cannot detect such contrasts as may really exist between their present and former state. By Modern, therefore, I chiefly mean Christian History; yet not so exclusively as to omit all mention of the Mohammedans. They too have their strong points of contrast to the ancient military monarchies, and will be remarked upon in their place. But the history of the Moslem or Mussulman nations is extremely monotonous. One form of government only, - military despotism, - has arisen among them; and owing to this meagreness, there is less to say about them. The Mohammedan empires, as in chronology they more properly belong to the Middle Age, so in their actual development appear to be midway between their prototypes in the ancient and their representatives in the modern Christian world.
