Excerpt from Consolidation and Reauthorization of Health Professions Programs: Hearing of the Committee on Labor and Human Resources, United States Senate, One Hundred Fourth Congress, First Session, on Examining Proposed Legislation Authorizing Funds for the Health Professions Programs of the Public Health Service Act Primary care and public health training networks would integrate primary care training in family practice, general internal medicine, general pediatrics, and physician assistants, while in creating the linkage between primary care and public health training. Increasingly, I think we are going to see the need for public health practitioners and primary care physicians trained together, because we will have common goals with capitated health plans and public health to achieve health objectives for the population. So that kind of training is going to be increasingly important. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
