SIGNS OF PASSING (PAPERBACK)

Otf Literary, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . What convinces us that we have been wrong about the world? When do we know that the usual ways are no longer working; that it is time to set down one life and pick up another? Winner of the Pacific Book Award for short fiction, Signs of Passing presents ten stories told from the nearside of epiphany, less a time or place than a state of mind in which one can hear the voice calling from beyond the veil of conscious understanding and singing of how life can be better: -A young boy, abandoned by divorce, discovers something inexplicable happening in the two-dimensional world of Winchester County, his favorite TV western; -A waitress at a bar called The Office, so alienated from the tedium of her own existence she no longer feels any fear walking home at night in the dark when perhaps she should; -A crime detective novelist so beset by writer s block that he attends the funerals of strangers in hopes of gleaning some advice from the dead, unaware that he is being followed; -A young and secretly talented widow struck by the revelation that her late husband was not the man she thought she had married; -A homeless, rural bus driver forced to confront the possibility that the dreams keeping him alive have been too small for him and that it is better to embrace peril in risking everything for a better life than to live safely in a prison of the familiar; -A squared-away child psychiatrist forced to confront the reality that one of his immature patients and an erotic dancer know more than he does about the fraud of his own existence and the excruciating...
