

Looking at Textiles A Guide to Technical Terms

By Elena Phipps

J. Paul Getty Museum. Paperback. Condition: New. 112 pages. Dimensions: 9.1in. x 6.1in. x 0.3in. Textiles have been made and used by every culture throughout history. However diverse whether an ancient Egyptian mummy wrapping, a Turkish carpet, an Italian velvet, or an American quilt all textiles have basic elements in common. They are made of fibers, constructed into forms, and patterned and colored in ways that follow certain principles. Looking at Textiles serves as a guide to the fundamentals of the materials and techniques used to create textiles. The selected technical terms explain what textiles are, how they are made, and what they are made of, and include definitions of terms relating to fibers, dyes, looms and weaving, and patterning processes. The many illustrations, including macro- and microscale photographs of a range of ancient and historic museum textiles, demonstrate the features described in the text. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg, OR, La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
