Not illustrated. 1819 Excerpt: .he will often, I dare say, think of what he learned there, and try to remember it, and to improve himself in it. He will be thankful to his parents and to his teacher Who were so good to him, and took so much pains to teach him; and especially he will be thankful to God who gave him so good parents, and so good teachers. THE CHRISTIAN NEIGHBOUR. The christian neighbour earnestly endeavours to do to others whatever he would wish they should do to him. He renders to all their dues; tribute, to whom tribute j custom, to whom custom; honour, to whom honour. He deals not falsely, nor defrauds his neighbour in any thing. He would rather suffer himself to be defrauded than to defraud others. He restores that which was delivered him to keep, or the lost which he found. If he sees his neighbour s cattle or his sheep go astray, he brings them again to his neighbour; in like manner he does with all lost things which he has found. He is kind and affectionate. He loves all about him. He always keeps and fulfils his engagements, and speaks the truth. He is pitiful and tender-hearted; courteous, gentle, and easy to be entreated 5 full of mercy, without partiality, and without hypocrisy. He suffers long, and is kind. He envies not; he blasts not of himself; he is not puffed up; does not behave himself unseemly; seeks only his own;...
