Oh, probably the reflection of a lantern, I said. Yes, a magic one, he replied sneeringly. I know of no more magical lantern than a man s head, I replied, a little disconcerted by his sneer. Chemists say there s more phosphorus in the brain than anywhere else; and so I sometimes think. He made no reply, but, seizing me by the coat, dragged me after him as he hurried out of the room, and, making for a back-door, led me out, bareheaded as I was, into the wood. The darkness had waxed to pitchiness, and the noises were hushed. The crows had gone to roost; and had it not been for some too-hoos of the jolly owl, sounding his horn as he rejoiced that the hated sun had gone to annoy other owls in the west, the silence would have been complete. But, in truth, I hate silence as well as darkness, and have no more sympathy with the followers of Pythagoras than I have with the triumph of the blind Eoman who silenced the covey of pretty women, in the heat of their condolences for his blindness, by reminding them that they forgot he could feel in the dark. I thought more of the fire inside, and the bottle of Burgundy, on which I had made as yet only a small impression. If I want darkness, I can as well shut my eyes, said I peevishly, and I would even have...
