Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Proceedings of the First All-India Sanitary Conference: Held at Bombay on 13th and 14th November 1911 The proceedings which were held in the Council Chamber of the Bombay Secretariat opened with the following speech by the President: - Gentlemen, My first duty, and most agreeable I find it, is to welcome you all to this conference, and, in so doing, on behalf of the Government of India to thank the local Governments and Administrations and yourselves for your presence here. The utility of conferences of this kind is now, I think, generally appreciated, and that not only for any conclusions to which they may lead though these must often be valuable but also and especially for the opportunities which they present to zealous workers in different parts of India for comparing experience, exchanging ideas, and above all for setting up that energising friction of mind with mind the want of which most men toiling in isolation feel at times as a burden well-nigh intolerable. Nor can it be a disadvantage that we should get to know one another. Holding this opinion, I earnestly hope that this may be the first of a series of conferences to be held as occasion may suggest at convenient centres. I was anxious that our first meeting should be held in Bombay in order that we might perhaps catch some of the spirit of the place, the spirit which has made it the great and beautiful and progressive city that we see to-day. The agenda before us open up large questions of research work and hygiene, the two great and complementary divisions into which modern sanitation falls. By research...
