Parson s Porch Books, United States, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 203 x 127 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .EVERY ONCE IN A WHILE, I WILL pull out an article of clothing from among my clean clothes and find my first initial and my last name written on it and I will think, Oh yes, that s from when I was in the rehabilitation center after my second major hemorrhagic stroke. Then I will be having lunch with my youngest daughter and my husband. She will touch my cheek and say something to the effect of That s how Daddy would touch your cheek when you were in the rehab center. He would also pat you on the head, like this. And she begins to illustrate as my husband looks on, a faint smile on his face. Then she starts to tear up and I do as well. On our drive to our home off the Blue Ridge Parkway in Virginia, I begin to ask my husband questions that I have recently begun to mull over about this particularly fuzzy episode in my life. Tell me again, I ask, who came to see me while I was still out of it , an expression that I use to describe the black hole I fell into when I had my second hemorrhagic stroke in August of 2009. He calmly recounts the names though he is not so sure how many times or the dates that the many individuals stopped by to check on my status. One such person is Stewart Childress, the pastor of Bluemont Presbyterian Church which we attend when we are at our second already mentioned home.
