Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.3in.Excerpt from The Experts AssistantAs the title of this work indicates, it is not intended as a treatise on book-keeping, but as an assistant to those already actively engaged in the profession, and for advanced students who may desire to avail themselves of its help. Therefore, but little instruction will be attempted as to the ordinary routine work, and only such examples and forms given as may serve to illustrate the principles, etc. , involved. The idea of the author has been to present, in as concise form as possible, tables, rules and forms that will lighten and expedite the work of the accountant, thereby enabling him not only to do his work with more ease to himself, but, what is of far greater importance, give better satisfaction to his employer. The tables and forms presented it is not claimed are all new or original, although some of them have never before been published, but are such as are required almost daily, and if published are scattered through many works, not to be easily obtained when most needed. Their value and use...
