Reviews

It is one of the most popular publications. We have read through it and I am sure that I will likely study it again once more later on. I am just delighted to tell you that this is actually the finest publication we have read through in my individual existence and might be the best PDF for actually.

Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Description: An elderly peasant woman lives with her coffin in the kitchen. An American teacher is adopted by a village family. An eccentric grandfather teaches Chinese to his American student by jumping around the room and other perilous pantomimes. China is a vast and populous nation which demands our understanding. But while newspaper headlines commonly focus on politics and economics, Saving Grandmother s Face, written by Christian university teachers in China, recounts their experiences in the classroom and in the countryside, celebrating a child s birth and mourning a child s death, grading papers and discussing Chinese literature. Through these stories you will see a side of China often left out-the human side. Endorsements: This collection of authentic and engaging vignettes conveys the flavor and feelings of being an American teacher in China, and opens a set of windows onto aspects of daily life in China that most American visitors would not otherwise get to see. These stories invite the reader into a fascinating variety of experiences--and also invite the reader to respond thoughtfully and reflectively to these experiences. --Don Snow Nanjing University This delightful collection of cultural vignettes takes you into the living room of the charming Mr. Yang who makes you laugh out loud, to the funeral of a thirteen-year student, where tragedy closes all cultural divides. The stories demonstrate that these Christian English teachers are learning as much as they are teaching. Saving Grandmother s Face is a window into the lives of these modern day missionaries and the people they are privileged to know --Mary Shepard Wong Azusa Pacific University This book is a must buy for anyone planning to live or...
