Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Thousand Miles Up the Irrawaddy: Burmah Proper About the beginning of August, 1878, Col. Gloag, R. A., and I formed the resolution of travelling together to Bamo in Upper Burmah. Being as it is nearly a thousand miles by river from Rangoon, and the farthest point reached by steam navigation, we considered that by going there we should see more of Burmah than we could in any other journey occupying the same time. We then applied for sixty days privilege leave, and having obtained it, took our passage to Bamo. As we intended to go by rail as far as Prome to save time, we took return tickets from Prome to Bamo and back. My ticket for self and one servant came to about 10. This of course includes neither food nor wine, the charge for food being four rupees a day. Wine, beer, c., can be had on payment, and the charges are moderate. Our steamer, the Irrawaddy, left Rangoon on the 15th August, but we ourselves, profiting by the quicker means of transit, did not leave till the morning of the 18th inst. The train goes at a very deliberate pace through a most uninteresting country - perfectly flat - its monotonous plains of paddy fields only relieved by still more monotonous patches of jungle. Being two hours late, we did not reach Prome till 9 p.m., having taken fifteen hours to travel 163 miles.
