Not illustrated. 1907 Excerpt: .Business in this section is a little quiet at this time, but with the approach of spring matters will improve, when we hope not only to send orders more frequently but larger ones. You are doubtless aware that partial failure of crops the past season has caused the depression; but with such flattering prospects as we now have, we see no reason why our business should not pick up. Trusting to receive prompt attention at your hands, we remain, Yours truly, --240--Dear Sir: On the 30th ult. I mailed you an order requesting you to execute the same and dispatch it not later than the 4th inst. The 12th of this month has now arrived, but the goods have not come to hand, neither have I received any tidings of them. This delay has caused me great inconvenience, and has compelled me to break my faith with some of my best customers. If you found it impossible to execute the order promptly, why did you not advise me to that effect, that I might have made other arrangements? I now write most positively to say that unless the goods are delivered not later than the 20th inst., I can not receive them, as after that date I could not use them. Trusting that you will use every effort to prevent further disappointment and delay, I am, Respectfully, --241--Gentlemen: I regret exceedingly the non-delivery of your esteemed order, and the inconvenience and disappointment occasioned you thereby...
