Forgotten Books, United States, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from A Letter From a Member of the Boston Bar to an Avaricious Landlord: With an Expression of Sentiments Being fully convinced that the cause of the deep degradation, and, as it would seem, to one of little faith, almost hopeless condition of man kind at the present time, may be traced mainly to the despotic, priestly power, by which man has assumed, or rather presumed, to govern and punish his fellow-man, and being keenly aggrieved on account of the vast amount of poverty, crime, degradation and indescribable misery which we have brought upon ourselves and entailed upon our posterity by the long continued apathy and criminal neglect of one of the most important duties which has ever devolved on man, namely, a prudent forethought and judicious management of the people's money. While thousands of dollars are annually expended to no purpose which can in any way benefit the people, but worse than thrown away, hundreds of human beings, even in the rich, the free, the philanthropic city of Boston, are pining in pinching poverty, and suffering for the bare necessities of life. While our State Prisons, Alms Houses, Jails, Hospitals and Houses of Correction are constantly being filled up with men, women and children, where, in consequence of the shame and degradation to which their situation unavoidably reduces them, they are rendered spiritless, heart-broken and, undoubtedly, in nine cases out of ten, the inmates of those institutions would, if they could die without laying violent hands upon their own lives, prefer death. Believing that there is no necessity for this, and in the greater eminence of associated over individual effort, we agree to form ourselves...
