Excerpt: . chapter vii that Which Brings Satisfaction To The Heart Vvhen Victor Hugo grasped the full extent of the national disaster in August, 1870, he started immediately for Belgium. On the proclamation of the republic he proceeded to the frontier where a few official friends awaited him. The scene that took place on his arrival, though somewhat theatrical, was yet inspiring. The sublime outlaw asked for the bread and wine of France. After he had eaten and drunk he begged Juliette to preserve a fragment of the bread and buried his face in his hands with the gesture of one who is dazzled by too much light. Juliette relates that big tears flowed through his clenched fingers. The bystanders stood in silence, awed by his emotion. The poet and our heroine stayed with Paul Meurice at Avenue Frochot for a time, and then went...
