I have myself met, and measured, with the utmost respect for their individual professional equipment, some of the officers of the most criticised railway in the world--the State-ridden Western Railway of France. The result of Government management is almost inevitably bureaucracy, and what this means in comparison with private initiative in living industry can well be illustrated by the experience of Austria. Mr. Pattai, the President of the Austrian Chamber of Deputies, said in a speech delivered last summer: We have always been in favor of the State taking over the railways, but if we had been able to foresee the results of the management I assure you we would have hesitated a little longer. We are still in favor...
