CreateSpace Independent Publishing Platform. Paperback. Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. 214 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.5in. This reader-gripping page-runner, involves the hectic life of a double-crosser named Sizakele Mthimkhulu who is married to a king alongside two other wives, Nomthandazo and Bonakele. Sizakele craves in her blood with an obsession that her son Mabutiza, born blind and heir to the king's throne marry Senzeni, a beautiful daughter of her friend Sakhile who is a nurse and is married to the principal of a school where Sizakele is a teacher. Mabutiza is however interested in Noluthando, a down to earth God loving daughter of Noluntu, an indigent neighbor to the royal home. The race to the walk down the aisle is devious, restless, sleepless and packed with lots of lies. It is a race accompanied by all the evils of this world and the love of the heavens above! Excerpt There was nothing else Noluntu could do other than kneel down and pray to God. Sizakele had put her pious life on pins and needles. She told herself that she could no longer be a spectator to her own struggle for her own emancipation. Oh God, she prayed. You said we should love our enemies. However, I ask you to oppose those who oppose me and fight those who fight me as the prayer for help says in Psa. . . . Stop it! Noluntu was interrupted by a harsh sharp voice. She opened her eyes and saw a nightmarish figure standing frantically before her. It was Sizakele the queen. I caught you red handed! You are gossiping about me behind my back with your dim-witted God! You're a futile poverty-stricken waste of rations! You think your God will help you get your miserable daughter to marry...
