In their proper seasons the members have baseball, basketball and football teams as well as numberless gymnastic exhibitions and field meets, and these activities, coupled with the fact that the gymnasium has a seating capacity for 700 people (its size is 80 feet by 60 feet and it has a large stage), make the institution more or less of a community center and headquarters, almost all of the people in the locality using it for their various entertainments, band and orchestra practice, high-school commencements and all of that sort of thing. The institution has been managed from the first by a Board of Directors composed of people from the neighborhood, generally aided by the interested attention of the officials at Burnham, of the two Front View of Club House erected by William G. Mather. Companies, and the indications are that as normal business...
