Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Pathology of the Eye, Vol. 3: General Pathology; Part I This volume commences the discussion of the General Pathology of the Eye. It includes Congenital Abnormalities, Ametropia, the Circulation and Nutrition of the Eye, the Normal Intra-ocular Pressure, and Glaucoma. Bearing in mind the fact that pathology is but physiology modified by abnormal conditions, I have considered it essential to give an exhaustive account of the normal circulation and nutrition of the eye. It is scarcely necessary for me to express my indebtedness to the writings of Professor Leber upon this subject, more especially to his resume in the second edition of the Handbook of Graefe-Saemisch. Since 1865, when he published his description of the anatomy of the intra-ocular blood-vessels, Professor Leber has been a pioneer in this field of discovery. The problems which he has solved by his exact researches are of fundamental importance, and those which yet await solution must be attacked with the weapons which he has provided.
