iUniverse, United States, 2010. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . There is no connection between being ninety-three years old and being ancient or timeless. The poems in this collection are contemporary-real, sincere, and thought-provoking. Strauss explores the many degrees of love-from young to old, from family to valued friends-in provocative and compassionate verse. Neither is love his only topic. He offers poetic viewpoints on poverty, disability, and war; he recalls traveling the long trail of parenthood from newly born child through to adulthood. The obstacles and joys in life that might be faced by age ninety-three bear examination in Firecracker: Poems at 93. Fire Cracker There are many things I d like to be There are many lives I d like to live Above all I d like to feel free To live and love, to forgive A state of mind haunts my soul One unusual wish torments my mind To build my energy so it can explode I wish I were a firecracker of some kind I d light the sky with flames of love I d burn away the troubles of the world People could look down, around and above To know sunshine, clouds, see stars unfurl I d arouse curiosity in children I d teach them what controlled energy can do I d teach them how music can enfold them I d teach them to understand things old and new I d like to be a firecracker, and make my mark in time With a loving companion as a backer, I d explode with love in a life sublime Though you may not see love, I ll know As a firecracker, I could make it so.
