A645 2009 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)495849552 Subject: United States -- Appropriations and expenditures, 2010. Excerpt: . . . 11 Secretary Locke, the first thing that I want to just acknowledge is that I am very proud of the fact that a substantial number of agencies within the Commerce Department portfolio are headquartered in my State. They are NOAA, NIST, and Census. And I had the opportunity to interact with the leadership there as well as the staff. I want you to know that throughout your agency, there are what I call the worker bees, those wonderful people that under the old pay scale were the GS - 5s through the 15s. They real-ly have kept our Government going. In some instances, they have had good leadership and in some instances not. In our hearings, we tend to focus on the problem agencies but I hope we also take a look at all of the agencies and acknowledge the tremendous assets that we have in our Civil Service popu-lation. When you go over to NIST, which I hope we will have a chance to go together, you will see a civil servant that is a Nobel Prize winner. A civil servant is a Nobel Prize winner, and he is on the job right now today not only winning prizes but thinking the thoughts to win the markets. That is why I was so pleased that you met with the Patent Office staff. We have to look at the fact that our workers are not prob-lems, but they are part of the solution. I believe that some of the issues around contracting out, lack...
