Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Canada Seventy Years Ago: Or Prince Edward s Visit to Niagara Through glare and dust at evening s hour Say, you have reached the gorge of power, The headlong haste they did pursue Arrested, you a picture view. A picture to which the opposing rays, Of Sol on moving water lays Noiseless and clear, without a glare - Unawed, as when too close you are. Be not in haste to approach the wonder, But like the lightning without thunder, Arrest your course, view it awhile, And with my lay your time beguile Ye denizens of cities, list, I pray To this rough measure of a sylvan lay Though one from foreign lands in this I bring, Tis not of courts, a people rude I sing. Forget not ye who now in palace car, Ride swiftly, smoothly to the scene from far. How hard it was the way for them to tread, Who o er this forest darkened road first sped, Think not this epic for the scene too high, Niagara can with all the Grecian valleys vie; In this the thought directed to as far between As is this spot from the farthest you have been. When up the gorge a mile or two you ride, And reach this wonder on the Canada side, And while from coach to elevator step, Prepared to see the myriads of water leap. Look back and see yon gossamer span, Work, great as earth displays of man; A train disturbs the cataract s roar, Soon it rolls on - that sight is o er. It s past; and grandeur as of yore Reigns, ruler of the scene once more,...
