Reviews

It is fantastic and great. It is written in easy words and phrases instead of confusing. I am just delighted to explain how this is actually the best book I have ever read through during my individual life and might be the finest publication for ever.

Excerpt from Military Journal of Major Ebenezer Denny, an Officer in the Revolutionary and Indian Wars: With Introductory Memoir In the confusion of the battle, when the officers were nearly all killed or wounded, John Morgan, the aid of the disabled Butler, rode up to Major Denny and asked for orders. His horse, covered with blood, rubbed his wounded face on the Major's pantaloons. This was not noticed at the time; and afterward-general St. Clair observing the blood, said to his aid-de-camp; Major, you are wounded. The latter dismounted, drew off his boot, but finding no wound, recollected Morgan's horse. The General smiled and said, Don't you remember the Irish beauty alluding to the young officer at the battle of James River, who perceiving his pantaloons stained in the same way, supposed himself wounded, and was carried off the field. This was told to the writer by his father, as an instance of General St. Clair's coolness and self-possession in the midst of the panic.
