Excerpt: . necessities of life) that must be imported for the consumption of the remaining eight months to be paid for, particularly while the Government looks to this supply as a piincipal source of its revenue? Your Petitioners apprehend that the only answer which can be given to the question is, By its trade; and if that fails it, the alternative must be, that the mother country will be itself under the necessity of supporting the colony, or of seeing its population rapidly diminish undef the effects of a policy that will leave au indelible stain upon her honour and humanity. That the remonstrances of the mercantile body have not been without foundation as to the practice of Government in the imposition of duties, your Petitioners will satisfy themselves, and, they hope, your Honourable House, by a reference to the duty upon barley formerly alluded...
