Here is the finest publication we have read right up until now. It is actually written in easy words instead of difficult to understand. It has been written in a remarkably easy way in fact it is only right after I finished reading this book in which it basically changed me, modified the way I really believe.

Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: LAP Lambert Academic Publishing | A Novel Approach for Structural Seismic Response Attenuation | The book presents a wide range of passive structural seismic response control techniques. It explains the details of design, fabrication strategies and testing of a device made of a smart material, Shape Memory Alloy (SMA). It gives details of formulation of a developed thermo-mechanical mathematical model of SMA, which takes into account the residual martensite strain effect and reduced apparent austenite modulus of elasticity. It also proposes a simplified method developed for analytical evaluation of the structural response with and without this damper device and explains its validation carried out by time history analysis of the structure. Lastly, it describes in detail the shake table experiments carried out on the steel structure attached to this device in order to prove its efficacy for attenuating the seismic response. | Format: Paperback | Language/Sprache: english | 212 pp.
