Excerpt from The Path of the King HE three of us in that winter camp in the Selkirks were talking the slow aimless talk of wearied men. The Soldier, who had seen many campaigns, was riding his hobby of the Civil War and descanting on Lee s tactics in the last Wilderness struggle. I said something about the stark romance of it - Of Jeb Stuart ?itting like a wraith through the forests; of Sheridan s attack at Chattanooga, when the charging troops on the ridge were silhouetted against a harvest moon; of Leonidas Polk, last Of the warrior Bis-hops, baptizing his fellow generals by the light of a mess candle. Romance, I said, attended the sombre grey and blue levies as faithfully as she ever rode with knight-errant or crusader. The Scholar, who was cutting a raw-hide thong, raised his wise eyes. This pdf is definitely not easy to get started on studying but quite entertaining to read through. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
