Createspace, United States, 2013. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . A collection of six short speculative fictions by William Mangieri, in which we learn some life lessons: It doesn't do to dwell in the past. To get back one life you need to give up another. Love can either blind you or light the darkness. Don't make deals with dishonest people. Don't insult the people who prepare your food. Don't turn the radio up when cruising the neighborhood. Includes the short stories: Passed Life Talk about an identity crisis! Ed thought he had a good handle on who he was - but a family death, adoption, phone calls from the past, and time travel can really mess with your sense of self. Sometimes it's better to leave the past alone. B.I.T. A man with a life-altering, gene-hacking virus must decide whether to accept his new existence, or try to regain his old identity. As often happens, we must wonder: what are we willing to give up to be cured? Through Her Eyes Jennie had a surprise planned for Pete, but Pete had one for her, too. Things aren't always what they seem. They say that we're blinded by love, but sometimes it's the only thing that can light the darkness. Business is Business In this fairytale taken from a different perspective, an honest craftsman enters into a business relationship, but soon finds himself ensnared in the machinations of a voluptuous gold-digger. Then she has a child and declares it's his. No, wait, it's not quite the way it sounds; this is Rumpelstiltskin we're talking about. A Dish Best Served A self-aggrandizing faux-French intergalactic food critic runs afoul of a prideful chef,...
