Like Jonah in the whale, I was absorbed in a large mouth bass with a big hook snagged through his gills, when the barber's voice rang out, Which one of you boys will be first He was finishing a customer, an old man in a red plaid flannel shirt, which seemed inappropriate on this warm day. He shut off the electric clippers and as he turned to hang them on the wall rack, I noticed the crutches supporting the barber. I was attuned to the leg injuries of baseball players. Mantle was hobbled many times in his career and I once saw a player leave a game after sliding into second. His pants were torn and blood oozed through the gash. And football players sometimes stood on the side lines, helmet in hand, propped up on crutches. But much to my horror, as the barber maneuvered from behind the chair, it wasn't an injury to his leg. There was no leg at all. The One-Legged Barber. Each character from these stories, in his or her own way, struggles for a...
