Running a project without a work breakdown structure is like going to a strange land without a road map. By J Phillips Project management is the management of people, time and costs by an individual or a team to ensure the efficient commencement, progress and conclusion of a project. All these elements apply to construction projects. Project managers in the construction industry are responsible for planning and managing building projects, such as refurbishing a house or building a skyscraper. Their responsibilities include design, procurement, planning authorities, budget, contractors, clients, change, the lifecycle of the project, document management, and other specific areas to ensure that the construction project reaches a conclusion. Whether we are applying project management techniques within our own organization or within that of a client company, the first step requires promoting the value that project management offers. For many people, the idea of a structured process represents change, which is often unwelcome; and it is thought to be overly burdensome and even costly. In reality, successful project management offers important benefits to...
