Excerpt from Farming for Greater Production of War Crops in the Intermountain and Southwestern Country There is nothing of a miracle in such accomplishments, because conservation farming simply means good husbandry that stops the leaks and gets the most possible out of the land without wastage of precious water and topsoil. As a means of encouraging more widespread adoption of conservation methods, the Department of Agriculture is conducting a special program of assistance through Department of Agriculture War Boards and agencies best equipped to help, drawing upon practical experience that has been gained dating the last 10 years of National farm program development.
